

BUILDING GREEN MOMENTUM

THE OPPORTUNITY

If they act quickly, growth companies focused on green initiatives can capitalize on the intense interest of the media in green technology to reach their market potential. An extended series of positive media hits and exposure while interest is high expands a company's sales channels and encourages revenue growth.

Clean Green Communications Inc. can provide you with the energy, contacts, and expertise to build relationships and win coverage from the media to capitalize on company achievements and widespread public interest.

THE SOLUTION

Maximizing the momentum and garnering positive media coverage means having the right package when a journalist comes knocking. A professional response will boost your visibility among journalists and establish a reputation as an informed and accessible source for future articles.

Clean Green Communications offers the best communications services available, specifically geared to fast-growing green technology firms. Because of your achievements we are offering an exclusive package of services to meet this unique opportunity head-on.

THE PACKAGE

The Clean Green exclusive PR package includes:

- Press release drafting, commissioning, finalization, and dissemination
- Developing a comprehensive press kit to respond to media inquiries
- Media handling: coordinating pitches, follow-ups, and interviews
- Expert media training to prepare you for interviews with journalists

